THE ALLIES SWEEPING ON IN MANDONIA

French and British Pushing Forward
Near Metz

(By Associated Press)
In Macedonia the allied forces continued their offensive against the Bulgarians with success. Important positions have been taken and more than 3000 prisoners captured. Allied pressure against the Germans on the western front showed no signs of abating. In the region of Metz the enemy is reported to be burning towns in the valley of the Moselle, probably in preparation for a retreat to the Hindenburg line in this region. So successful was the first thrust of the Serbs and French troops in the Sokol region on the Macedonian front that the attacking front has been extended to more than 12 miles on which the Allies have advanced more than five miles. The Bulgarian war office admits that the Allies have progressed in the mountain region east of Monastir.

It but says they suffered heavy losses. The Serbian official statement says the allied losses have been quite small. From Lenz to Rheims the French and British have carried on local engagements. Between Lenz and Ypres the British have pushed forward slightly. Aerial activities in the region from Lorraine to Metz continued intense and possibly may be the forerunner of a large scale of infantry operations on this front.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Unqualified endorsement of President Wilson's rejection of Austria's proposal for a secret and non-binding peace discussion was given in the Senate today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and ranking minority member of the Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Lodge said the President's prompt and curt refusal was right and wise and that he was sure it would receive universal approval. The American position is becoming so plain, the Senator declared, that even the Central Powers soon will begin to understand it, Germany having brought unnumbered woes upon an innocent world and appeals to the lust of conquest. He said: "We will not now resort to talk and bargain for a decision. We mean to put her in physical bonds." He said he believed the President's action would put an end to loose and feeble talk held out to Germany about the Austro-Hungarian peace proposal.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift & Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

BIG BATTLE EXPECTED IN VOSGES

Americans Extending Their Line and Germans Expected to Attack--New Siberian Army Defeats Bulgarians

(By Associated Press)

In the theatre of war the fighting is going on steadily, and with additional fury in Macedonia, where the reorganized Siberian army with the French have occupied three strongly fortified Bulgarian positions. French troops in their advance on Chimen-de-Barges have made an advance of two-thirds of a mile over a front of two and one-half miles from northeast to east of Sunny, where they captured an additional 600 prisoners. American and German patrols are going the major part of the work in Lorraine and there are reports of a great attack by one or the other in the Vosges mountains.

While the Czechoslovakians have been fighting successfully against the Bolsheviks, steps having been taken to organize a Polish regiment, officered by their own men, as a unit of the American army to fight the Bolsheviks and eventually clear their own country of the Germans. It is estimated that 100,000 men can be made available.

LOCAL SITUATION NOT VERY BRIGHT

The rumor that Portsmouth's allotment of hard coal from the Federal Fuel Administration had been cut 20,000 tons from the basic amount used during the almost normal year of 1915, caused considerable uneasiness here. It is hoped that the statement, while true, is not so bad as it appears on its face.

It appears that the local Fuel Committee in making up their estimate for Portsmouth's allotment took into consideration the fact that Portsmouth and vicinity has almost doubled its population in the past eighteen months. The Fuel Administration did not, however, take the same view of the matter and set the allotment at the amount used in 1916 or 1917.

This would have been proper, but when the estimate reached the Washington office, the growth of the city was considered only lightly. They said that Portsmouth dealers sold out of the city, wholesale, 15,000 tons, and the Fuel Administration took this off and reduced the dealers of this trade, but deducted it from the total estimate. They, of course, figured on the two-thirds basis. An addition of 5,000 tons was allowed for emergency, making a total of some over 30,000 tons for this city. This is hardly enough, in fact is not enough to take care of the city properly without counting in the settlement at Atlantic Heights with its nearly 400 houses.

The local Fuel Committee are not submitting to this cut without making a fight for more coal and they are in hopes of getting more to take care of the increased population.

There has been some uneasiness and criticism of the local dealers by people who have not received their coal, or by people who go to the dealer and ask for coal now and cannot get it. As a matter of fact, the dealers are doing their best to furnish the coal and are paying it out as fast as they get it, and filling the orders in the order in which they were received.

Last spring the Fuel Committee warned everybody to make application for their coal to their dealers, and blanks were supplied. These orders were filled as far as possible in the same order, the size of the coal of course making some difference, as certain sizes came along better than others. Each person is allowed only two-thirds of the amount they ordered, which was based upon what they

SHATTUCK SHIP YARD NOTES

THE EAST TAUGHT THE WEST

Nelson Gay, the inventor of the pneumatic calker, has just returned to the West after making a tour of the Eastern Shipbuilding centers from Maine to Florida. Among other remarks that he had to offer after making his trip were the following:

"I tell you the East has a lot to learn from the West in the way of building ships. We are much more efficient. Perhaps that is possibly due to the climate. The men back there are simply witted in the head."

"I visited a lot of notable plants; the Shattuck Shipbuilding Company's yard at Portsmouth, N. H., Henry Smith & Son's yard at Baltimore, and the Maryland Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company's yard. They were big and efficient, but they could learn a lot from the Western shipbuilders, for all of that."

Mr. Gay's remarks may or may not be appropriate, but we all should remember that the West learned shipbuilding from the East. Furthermore, the very fact that we have so many visitors from Western yards surely is an indication that they are quite willing to at least spend a part of their valuable time examining our methods.

"I want to repay my debt to the Union," are the words of John Talbot, carpenter, aged 76. Mr. Talbot was a Confederate soldier during the Civil War and took active part in the battles of Bull Run and Gettysburg. Since the war he has become reconciled to the Union and a staunch supporter of it. In his zeal to lend a hand and at the same time do his bit for the Union he tried to enlist in both the Army and Navy at the outbreak of the present war. Of course he was turned down by both branches. However the old man knew that there was room for him in the second line of defense and so he procured a shipyard carpenter's job and is doing good work at his trade. He is greatly disappointed that he was not allowed to enlist but is making the most of it by doing a full week's work at his trade.

IF

If you'll cheer up when life seems not worth living

And always try to give a little more. Whether it is your work that you are giving

Or "gough" to a "drive" that's passing by your door;

If you'll remember we must lick the Kaiser,

With mauls and saws and chisels and air guns,

If you'll remember that by being a miser

And hoarding, you will be helping the Hun;

If you will hold your tongue instead of slander,

And tell the Kaiser's spies that grow about,

If you'll fight lies and filthy propaganda

Instead of giving up to fear and doubt;

If you can stick to work when all the strikers

Will quit 'cause it is hot or cold or wet,

If you can spare some butter from your cruet,

Save coal and sugar, but be cheerful yet!

If you can buy a bond when bonds are selling

To charity, give something now and then;

If you hold yourself from loudly yelling,

If twenty bucks won't do the work of ten;

Don't feel that you're to France you should go hurrying;

You're doing enough to make the Kaiser yelp--

Just keep it up, you needn't do any more worrying;

You'll help, old boy, you bet you'll help!

(With apologies to Kipling.)

America's Might in Action.

The country has a right to be proud of the way in which the greatest registration since the beginning of the war was conducted on September 12. And when we say conducted we do not mean merely the manner in which the clerical work was performed by those in charge. We mean also every man that registered, for the manner in which the registrants performed their duty was an impressive illustration of the fact that America is heart and soul in this war and prepared to meet every demand that may be made upon the country to carry it to a righteous conclusion.

This registration places at the disposal of the government more than 13,000,000 men from which to draw material for the army and navy, exclusive of those who had registered before and those already in the service. This means that the call for man power has been fully answered and that henceforth there will be no lack of Americans on the fighting lines and on the seas.

This war is a serious business and the people are taking it seriously. They know there is a great work to be done and are ready to do their share of it in co-operation with the Allied nations with which the United States is fighting side by side in the common cause of humanity.

The day passed quietly. There was no confusion and no disturbance. The men of draft ages went to the designated places and answered the call of their country with dignity and courage. There was little, if any, shirking anywhere. The call was a call to the manhood of America and the manhood of America responded in the true American spirit. For the American people it was an impressive spectacle. What must be the effect on the powers with which the country is at war?

And now the good work so well begun is not to be halted, but pressed to the final and logical conclusion. There will be a large drawing of men to the service in the immediate future. The younger men will be taken first, as is eminently proper, and the total number registered is so great that it is probable that thousands of them will never see active service. But they are available, and this means much to the country and the nations with which it is standing shoulder to shoulder in the most stupendous war in the history of the world.

What a commentary is all this on the silly German theory that the United States would count for little in the war. What this country has already done is sufficient to prove that it is a mighty factor in the struggle, and it is now clear that what has been done is only a beginning. The greatest and richest country in the world has placed its shoulder to the wheel, and henceforth the pressure of American man power and resources will continue to grow heavier and heavier until the forces that determined to dominate or destroy the world are forever crushed.

American soldiers have lately been feasting on vegetables planted by the French and cultivated by the Germans, and some of the officers have been regaling themselves at mess with the choicest of German mineral waters which had been hurriedly abandoned by their former owners. With her old men and women Germany may squeeze some production from the soil, but her army's agricultural experiments in France have proved disappointing.

Where were the censors when the dispatch telling about the torpedoing of the Montana was sent out from New York without the least attempt at camouflage? Shouldn't this important intelligence have been disseminated from "An Atlantic Port?"

The national automobile shows at New York and Chicago have been called off. And it would have been just as well if the world's baseball series had been treated in the same way. This is an excellent time to dispense with "frills," big and little.

Under present conditions every house and every room in this city should be occupied and it is quite possible that they may be in the near future. The government is looking into the situation, and it may decide to resort to commandeering.

The kaiser says he is ready for peace. But what he is going to get is pieces, and he and his bloodthirsty hordes will supply the material of which they are made. And it looks now very much as if the pieces would be "made in Germany."

The German oracles are learning caution. Admiral von Scheer reiterates that the submarine will yet bring England to her knees, but wants it distinctly understood that "I will not bind myself to a definite date."

The next Liberty Loan campaign is rapidly approaching and it behooves all who expect to lend a hand to be preparing for action.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Even More Saving

(From the Portland Press)
Another thing: If you don't take the car out on Sunday, you may be able to get by another year with the same old boat, and have more money for Liberty bonds.

Should Be Put in Cases

(From the Shoe and Leather Reporter)
Archaeologists have discovered a safety pin three thousand years old, and we know a number of safety-first pacifists who are between eighteen and forty-five years old. Yes, they are all useless, except as curiosities.

What Might Happen

(From the Fairbury (Neb.) News)
A number of our exchanges have been speculating on what would happen if the government took over the newspapers. Well, the first thing the subscription price would be raised about 50 per cent and the short list would be kept busy chasing delinquents. The next step would be to raise wages about 25 per cent and editors, who hadn't had a cent in six months, they could call their own, would be placed on a salary. The merchants who fail to get their ad copy in until press day would be hauled up before the council of defense and our linotype man who hired out for two weeks and quit his job in a week would be sent to Leavenworth for about ten years as a deserter. It looks like a good proposition and we're for it.

Who Dares Plead For the Hun?

(From the Toronto Mail and Empire)
Whatever may be wrong with the German mind, it is not unintelligent, and it is unsurpassed in cunning. Barbarian though he is, the German militarist knows what generosity is, at least sufficiently to estimate it as a minus quantity on the side of the power that indulges it in war. He has no use for it except as a weakening quality in his enemy. In spite of a generous way of fighting on the part of his enemy the German is beaten. The German hopes to get off easy because of that virtue in his antagonist—get it easy and some day repay that too chivalrous antagonist by a fatal stab in the back. Those who today are arguing that we hasten to reconcile ourselves with our adversary are consciously or unconsciously interceding for that savage foe in order to obtain for him one more chance to triumph over us. The settlement of this war must be left to our fighting men.

A Lesson to New Hampshire

(From the Manchester Union, Rep.)
We hardly think that the Democratic chieftains and papers will venture a statement to the effect that Maine has repudiated the Administration's war policies, and has declared against the war. They know better. And, by the same token, the prelection talk about the necessity for voting the Democratic ticket in order to support the President, or to give the impression of supporting the President, is political humbug.

Think it over, New Hampshire Republicans. You may have been inclined to think that perhaps it were better, after all, to give the President Congressional support of his own pillion belief as a war measure. Do you consider Maine disloyal? Do you think Maine has failed? In the performance of a political duty? No. You know Maine is as solidly for the war and the winning of it as any state in the American Union. You would resent a charge of disloyalty laid against the men of this neighboring state. You say that their war work speaks for itself and that it is not necessary for the Maine men to vote endorsement of all the socialist, Government-ownership tendencies of the Administration in order to support the President in his war work. And it is no more necessary for you to send a rubber stamp congressman or senator to Washington than it is for Maine to do so.

WORKMEN PAY HIGH TRIBUTE TO NAVAL OFFICER

Naval Constructor R. P. Schlabach, U. S. N., superintendent of Shops at the Navy Yard, who has been ordered to Washington for duty at the Bureau of Construction, was tendered a complimentary banquet by the men of the Industrial Department at the Navy Yard on Monday evening. It was a very fine tribute to one of the most efficient officers that has ever been stationed at this yard.

The affair was arranged by a committee from each of the shops in his department and it was held in the new yard restaurant, which was opened for the first time. There were about five hundred present including many ladies. In addition to Constructor and Mrs. Schlabach there were present Industrial Manager Adams and wife, and the other officers of the department and their wives.

A roast beef supper with all of the fixings was served by the yard caterer. During the supper the new Industrial Band played.

Thomas J. Lynch of this city was toastmaster, and he called upon Mr. Adams, the Industrial manager, R. W. Hyden, the successor of Mr. Schlabach, and men from the shops, all voicing their high regard for the retiring superintendent.

Following the supper adjournment was taken to the dance hall where dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

LIKELY TO TRY BEER AND WINE AMENDMENT.

Rev. Jonathan S. Lewis, law enforcement officer of New Hampshire, says that in 1919 there were 10 states which had adopted a prohibitory law. Since then 18 other states have gone dry and in all of them an unsuccessful effort had been made to change the law to include a beer and wine amendment. He would be surprised if the coming legislature of this state did not attempt similar action.

PORTSMOUTH MAN WINS COMMISSION

Bailey V. Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Emery of Middle street, a Dartmouth graduate and also from the Portsmouth High School, has just won a commission in the French regular army. Young Emery has been attending the French military school in Paris and graduated last week 4th in a large class. He left here about a year ago to enter the motor service and did that work for eight months. He has made various efforts to join the regular American army but has in each case been rejected on account of a physical defect. He then presented himself for service in the Canadian army but the defect could not be waived. Determined to do something to help whip the enemy he went to France at his own expense as a motor truck driver and made an excellent record. By a spirit of undaunted determination he has won a commission from the regular French Military School and enters the heavy artillery branch. His friends at home will be more than pleased at his success.

HUN INTRIGUE IN RUSSIA IS NOW REVEALED

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 16.—Secret activities against the United States and the allies of the German-paid and controlled Russian Bolshevik government are the subject of today's chapter of confidential documents from Russia given to the public by the American government.

One of the documents, a terse note from the German general staff to the Council of People's Commissars, discloses that as long ago as November, 1917, when the Russian regime still was regarded as an ally of the nations at war with Germany, the Germans were busily recruiting Lenin and Trotsky to furnish information regarding the amounts and places of storage of supplies received by Russia from America, England and France.

Others tell of the launching in January and February, this year, of a Bolshevik peace and Socialist propaganda against the United States, England and France, at the direction of the German intelligence service. This was at the very time that Schenkman, the powerful German Socialist and world-Socialist apostle, was in communication with his Russian brothers regarding the destruction of the traces of the party's business relations with the Imperial government.

The intelligence service required the Bolsheviks to send to the allied countries through neutral Europe "comrades" under assumed names and with false neutral passports, to preach their doctrine of disorganization and to carry on campaigns of "counter-revolution, sabotage, looting, etc."

Plans of the Germans for sending three submarines, disassembled, by rail overland to Vladivostok for service on the Pacific are disclosed in a communication of the German High Seas Fleet general staff to the commissars. Another of the naval communications reveals a scheme conceived in January of employing Russian ships on the Pacific under the Russian flag to carry agitators and "agents-destructors" to the United States, Japan and the British colonies in Eastern Asia.

Personal notes from the German intelligence service to the commissars describe the assault upon and robbery of the Italian ambassador in the streets of Petrograd in February last in a vain effort to get possession of important papers believed to have been in the ambassador's possession. Other notes tell in detail of the watch kept upon the American and other allied embassies.

Like the remainder of the documents of the series, those made public today are accompanied by notes explaining which are originals and which photographic copies, and by explanatory comments by Edgar Sissler, who obtained the correspondence in Russia for the committee on public information.

German and Austrian war prisoners in Russia were ordered in June last by the German and Austrian emperors to work in Russia for their own respective countries. A Hungarian newspaper containing a copy of an order to that effect signed by Emperor William and Emperor Charles, has been found on a prisoner captured by the Czechs.

In the order the war prisoners were threatened with punishment after returning to Germany if they failed to promote German interests in Russia. Those who obeyed were promised furloughs on returning home. Announcement was made that 300,000,000 marks had been set aside in Germany to discover those who betrayed their country.

Representatives of the foreign governments recently received a note from the minister of foreign affairs of the Provisional Government of Autonomous Siberia in which it confirms its loyal attitude to the Allies, and gives a reinsurance that "it considers it obligatory to maintain the agreements made between the Allies in the course of the present war, as likewise all other agreements in force in Russia prior to October 25, 1917."

It was soon after this date that the Bolsheviks gained control in Russia. The Siberian Provisional Government asserts the present line is very opportune for realizing within the territory of Siberia, and afterwards in Russia, the re-establishment of a front against their common enemy, with the guarantee that the sovereign rights of Russia and the principles of international law be not infringed.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-cramped, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunions-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive into that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like jumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

TO SET RETAIL PRICES

Washington, Sept. 17.—The war industries board is about to determine a fair profit for the retailer.

Moved by the flood of complaints of profiteering, the board has under consideration regulations to force the stamping of wholesale prices on all merchandise sold in the United States, that the consumer may check the blood-money makers individually.

He will know when he inspects any article of merchandise, just how much profit the retailer gets.

The federal trade commission's aid has been enlisted in the plan, it was learned here today. That body's work will be to prevent stamping of prices above actual selling figures. It will protect the wholesalers and the manufacturers who desire to undertake resale price maintenance.

The war industries board believes it can enforce such a program through its power of industrial classification and its hold on materials and transportation.

Wholesalers and retailers both would be affected by the board's power to permit movement of raw and finished products or discontinue that privilege.

As the program now stands, it could not be made to cover foodstuffs except those in packages and cans. But to clothing and shoe and trade-marked food products the board could apply the ruling without leaving an avenue of escape, it believes.

poets to collect enough clothing to at least keep the people of that country from freezing this winter. A similar drive was made last fall and it was very successful, the shipments of tons of second-hand clothing to Belgium undoubtedly saving that plucky little nation untold hardships.

Like everything else Germany has stripped Belgium of all of its cloth and materials with which cloth is made, and the fact that Germany herself is hard up for clothing precludes any hopes of that government ever relinishing any of their stolen plunder. The week of the drive is Sept. 23 to 30, and the principal days here will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week and the headquarters will be at the old Court House on Court street.

The people of this city and vicinity are urged to go over all of their clothing and select what they can dispense with so that it may be sent to the Red Cross collecting station. Woolen goods of every description are needed, and if somewhat worn they can be remade and be useful. Suits, dresses, etc., can be made over by the Belgian women into clothing for the children.

Woolen goods of any kind whatsoever are acceptable; soft hats and caps for all ages, and sweaters of any kind and size. Men's shirts and pajamas, so worn or shrunken, as no longer to be serviceable are particularly welcome, since the material can be used by the Belgian women for making children's garments. Shoes of every kind are asked for, and scrap leather is needed for repairing foot-wear.

All kinds of women's clothing is desired other than garments of flimsy materials.

EXETER

Exeter, Sept. 17.—Many students arrived yesterday for the opening of the academy on Wednesday. Among the number is a grandson of the late James J. Hill of St. Paul, Minn., former president of the Great Northern railway. He was accompanied by his father, Louis W. Hill, now president of the Great Northern railway and a graduate from the academy with the class of 1891, the class that gave the graduates' house.

The regular meeting of Gliman Grange was held last evening when the subject consisted of a discussion on "Resolved, That the Centralization of Schools in the Larger Towns and Cities is Detrimental to the Farm Interests of the State." The program speakers were Rev. B. J. Prescott of Hampton Falls, Oscar E. Huse, Stevens W. Perkins and Supt. of Schools Muro S. Brooks. Violin selections were by Rev. B. J. Prescott and an essay by Mrs. A. E. Ross. The next meeting will be the annual harvest supper, which will be on Oct. 7.

Robert C. Parkman, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Parkman of Stratham died this morning at the Exeter cottage hospital in his fourth year. He had been ill there but a short time.

Stratham Republicans on Saturday evening chose Charles W. Whitcomb and Gilbert C. Thompson as delegates to the senatorial convention to be held at Concord on Sept. 27. They are unpledged.

John H. Bikins, who as great representative from New Hampshire attended the great council of the Red Men at Chicago, has returned home. While there he made a visit to the great lakes training camp and other points of interest.

Michael Cassidy, who was severely injured at the Freeman's Point ship yard in July, has returned from the Portsmouth hospital and is now able to be about on crutches.

MURDER TRIALS FOR YORK COUNTY SUPREME COURT

Murder trials promise to be the center of attraction at the September term of court of York County, which opens Tuesday at Alfred.

The chief interest centers in the case of Rev. Henry H. Hall, the Wells Depot pastor, who is held at the Alfred jail on a charge of causing the death of his wife, Minnie O. Hall, during the evening of June 11. It will be recalled that he was held for the grand jury by Judge Harold H. Bourne at the preliminary hearing in Kennebunk.

Should an indictment be returned by the grand jury a long hard legal battle may be looked for as it is the determination of this lawyer, Judge George J. Emery, to clear the clergyman. On the other hand the state, it is claimed, has a large amount of new evidence which was not presented by County Attorney Franklin R. Chesley.

In addition to the Hall case will be that of John C. Slorah, who is charged with killing his housekeeper, Della Duquette.

The case has been through various courts and has been ordered returned to the supreme court for trial.

In addition to the murder trials there are a number of Jamaica glider cases.

Present prospects are that the term will last about three weeks. Chief Justice Josiah C. Gosselin will preside.

It is likely that at the conclusion of the civil term of three weeks a recess will be taken until later in the fall when the murder cases will be considered.

Read the Portsmouth Herald if you want to keep posted on the local happenings.

We want you to have an opportunity to really know what it means to have a Victrola. You will never really appreciate what a never-ending source of pleasure the Victrola is until you have spent an evening or two with it in the privacy of your own home.

We feel under obligation to you for this privilege—it's our nicest way of advertising the delights of the Victrola.

I WONDER

How many people can tell right off quick where the main office of the American Express Company is in this city?

Why that Company doesn't put up some kind of a sign to help the public in locating the office?

Why the city doesn't put a few of the spare bricks piled up in the city yard in the sidewalk on Vaughan street in front of the Margeson Bros. store?

Who will hand the job of City Messenger?

If the man who declares he would accept it for $2,000 per year will be coaxed to take it?

Why many policemen from other cities are quitting the job and going to work in the shipyards?

Why some of the service flags about the city are not better cared for?

Why so many conflicting reports about the whereabouts of Portsmouth boys in France?

If those Kiltrey and Elliot men who claim the world's record for squashes, potatoes and other farm products have had any farmerettes working on their farms during the summer?

Why Portsmouth was cut short on its coal allowance for the coming winter?

When the drill grounds around the State Armory on Parrott Ave. will be ready for a dress parade?

That the Shattuck shipyard workers have not yet produced a band.
